FEDS SHUT OUT STANBERRY 9-0

ONE THOUSAND FANS GOT REVENGE IN ONE-SIDED GAME.

HAWTHORNE FANNED 3; WAS HIT FOR 26 BASES

Red Sox Manager and Pitcher Humbled by Maryville—Willey Struck Out 14—Play Again Aug. 29.

The backbone of the Stanberry Red Sox has been broken. The Maryville Federals have done it. They started it two weeks ago when they defeated the almost invincibles 2 to 1 on the enemy's grounds, and finished the job, good and proper, at Federal park here yesterday afternoon, while 1,000 joyous and over-joyous fans and rooters played "Yankee Doodle" to the tune of 9 to 0, with the accent on the goose egg.

So also has Hawthorne, that much feared manager and pitcher for the Red Sox, been humbled and made to "bite the dust." For it might be emphasized that Hawthorne, that dumpy little twirler and boss, struck out but three Feds and was hit fifteen times, six of them being two-baggers and three being three-baggers.

Stanberry Badly Humbled.

The more than 1,000 fans yesterday expected to see the Federals win—that is, all but a few did, but none were so optimistic of far seeing as to predict that it would be a shut-out game in favor of the Federals. In fact, the game was so one-sided that some fans got disgusted and urged the Red Sox to play a little ball.

Stanberry didn't look like the champion amateur team of northwest Missouri yesterday. Not when it had such men as Willey, Richardson, Rapps, Tilson, Scott and others to play against. It might be as a Gentry editor remarked some time ago, that Stanberry only needed a defeat or two and the team would go "up in the air" just like any others. It looks now as though the Gentry editor was correct in the assumption.

Willey Allowed But 4 Hits.

While Hawthorne was being hit for twenty-six bases yesterday, and but three "fanned" to him, Willey, that little slippery elm spit pitcher of the Feds, was striking out fourteen of the Stanberry batters and allowing but five bases on hits.

And, oh, how sweet is revenge! At least the 1,000 that saw the game at least thought so, for it was the sole topic of the base ball enthusiasts—both male and female—over Maryville last night. Even today the thought is uppermost in the minds of the real fans.

But Stanberry will have another chance to try its luck. A return game with Stanberry at Stanberry is scheduled by Cleve Funk, Federal manager, for Sunday, August 29.

The gate receipts yesterday were $220, while the grand stand netted $30 more. Every available seat was occupied and half the crowd overflowed into the wings of the fields and took up every available niche of space within sight of the diamond.

Stanberry Had 2 Scoring Chances.

But getting down to the real plays of the game. Maryville started the scoring in the second inning when two came home, they being Richardson and Miller. Each run was earned. Rapp scored in the third inning on a single and a two-bagger by Richardson. They failed to get a batter around the bases in the fourth inning, but came back strong in the fifth, and Palfreyman and Richardson scored.

Carmichael and Palfreyman also scored in the sixth and Miller and Morris brought in the final runs in the seventh inning.

Stanberry came near scoring only two times during the entire game. The first near opportunity came in the second inning, when H. Summa got first on a fielder's choice, went to third on a bad throw by Richardson to second to prevent a steal, but met his fate while trying to come home from third when a thrown ball by Richardson hit him and rolled off.

The other near chance came in the fourth inning, when Lynch took first on an error and went to third on a double by Summa, where he died peacefully.

Feds Play Clarinda Next.

One double play was made yesterday when Willey fielded an easy fair ball by H. Summa, threw to Scotty, who threw out McClain at second and then threw to first and killed H. Summa.

Tilson played first base fine and got four hits, one being a "scratch" hit to center field.

BOOSTERS PLAY ALL STARS

St. Joseph Team Comes Tomorrow for Game—Will Not Play Thursday—Season Near End.

The Maryville Boosters will play the fast amateur team of St. Joseph known as the All-Stars tomorrow afternoon at the Normal grounds, beginning at 2 o'clock. The game scheduled with Easton here Thursdday has been called off, as no game will be played here Thursday on account of the tournament at Hopkins then. The game tomorrow will begin earlier than usual to allow the visitors time to return on the Burlington at 4:44.

The game tomorrow is being looked forward to as being one of the fastest of the season on the Normal grounds. The Boosters will have Wakeman in the box, and Richardson, that nifty Federal catcher, as receiver. "Dirty" Miller will play second base. The remainder of the lineup will be as formerly.

That means that Wray will probably take first base; Rapp, third base; Palfreyman, shortstop; Vandersloot, left field; Still or Scott, center field, and Moore, right field.

An effort has been made to get a game with the Stanberry Red Sox, but as they will play only Sunday games it has been impossible.

The Booster base ball season ends August 26.

The All-Star lineup is announced as follows:

Ruedy, lf; Hooper, cf; Cree, 2b; Watson, 3b; Jennings, 2b; Brassing, 1b; Stewart, rf; Slater, c; Mansfield, p.

S. O. HUTCHISON IS DEAD

Had Lived in Maryville 37 Years—Was Formerly in Implement Business—Cancer Causes Death.

Samuel Oscar Hutchison, 62 years old, who had been a resident of Maryville for thirty-seven years, died at 7 o'clock this morning at the family home, 610 West Third street. Mr. Hutchison had been in poor health for the past few years, and for four months had been steadily failing. Two weeks ago his condition became serious, and from that time until his death he was unable to leave his bed.

Mr. Hutchison was born in Oxford, Pa., April 7, 1853. When he came to Maryville he followed his profession of teaching, and was at one time principal of the city high school. Later he went into the implement business, remaining a number of years. For the last ten year, until his failing health prevented active work, Mr. Hutchison has been employed as a traveling salesman.

In May, 1880, Mr. Hutchison was married at Oxford, Pa., to Miss Anna Belle Mosteller, who, with three sons, survive. The sons are Fred, William and Forrest, at home. The elder son was a student last year at the Missouri state university, and the younger ones are in the city high school.

Mr. Hutchison is also survived by five brothers and sisters. They are Mrs. Morgan Andrews of Los Angeles, Cal.; Will H. Hutchison of Caryhurst, Wyo.; A. A. Hutchison and Mrs. Samuel Walker of Oxford, Pa., and Eb Hutchison of Walter, Okla.

No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral services.

MUCH PAVING MAY DIE; OWNERS KICK

BELIEVE MOST STREET IMPROVEMENTS WILL BE KILLED.

JENKINS AND PART OF MARKET GOES THROUGH

All Propositions Fought by Resident Property Proprietors But One—Council Meets Tomorrow Night.

That most of the proposed paving of forty street blocks in Maryville will be "killed" as a result of remonstrances filed by property owners on every street proposed for improvement but one is evident, according to M. A. Peery, a member of the street committee of the city council. The only paving that is cetrain to carry is that on Market from the alley north of First street to Third street, and on Jenkins from Market to Main, Mr. Peery said.

The street committee of the council, which consists of Mr. Peery, Bert Raines and Edward Dragoo, determined in a special conference Saturday afternoon that the proposition to pave Market from Edwards to the alley north of First would not carry, as twenty-six property owners are declared to be against paving, compared to twenty-two who did not sign any remonstrance.

Part of Market May Be Paved.

The committee also found that only four out of eleven property owners on Market from Third to the alley north of First remonstrated, so that part will evidently be paved. As no remonstrance was filed against paving Jenkins, that also will probably be paved. If only these two carry, however, it is feared there will be trouble in inducing a paver to take the contract for such a small amount—at least, not at the usual paving cost.

There is a possibility of other streets being paved, however, as there may not be enough property owners given on the remonstrances to override the wishes of those not opposed to the street improvements.

The fate of the other propositions will be decided by the street committee in another special conference this afternoon or tonight, Mr. Peery said.

Council Meets Tomorrow.

Their findings will then be placed before the council in special session tomorrow night, when ordinances to pave all proposed streets where sufficient remonstrance was not made, will be considered.

A remonstrance was filed against all the paving resolutions except that to pave Jenkins street. The last to be filed was against paving Ninth street from Mulberry to the east line of the Normal grounds. These are given as opposed to that improvement:

A. S. Robey, Mrs. Kate Ratcliffe, Mrs. Kate McFarland, E. E. Lloyd, Stella D. Lloyd, Mrs. Mary Costello and A. W. Hawkins.

Little other business is scheduled to come up for consideration before the council tomorrow night.

WHAT THEY LIKE IN MARYVILLE.

The Hon. Victor Murdock announced during his brief stay here that he liked Maryville. He had taken a walk and had observed quickly. So he announced that he had been favorably impressed with our homes and our trees. And because of our outward evidences of progress and pride he approved of us.

Mr. Murdock comes from a state where trees are few and where they are appreciated. No one thing adds so much to the beauty of a city as an abundance of shade trees, and nothing is so much coveted where they do not grow naturally. They can build as fine houses in the parched desert and in the arid regions of the west as we can in Missouri, but they can't build big shade trees in less than an average life time. The beauty of Maryville lays in her homes, her trees and her streets as it does in every other city that lays claim to beauty.

It is therefore more than surprising that Maryville permits an ordinance to remain among its laws restraining property owners from planting shade trees in the parkings. If Mr. Murdock had known that our shaded streets would some day be a thing of the past, he would have criticised rather than approved of us. The ordinance was passed some years ago to gratify some passing fancy, but it has not been taken seriously, and has not been generally observed. The present city council, however, has undertaken to enforce the rule against setting trees in the parkings.

We do not know whether there are any other cities having such an ordinance or not, but if so, they are few. Cities which have become known for progress and public spirit have encouraged and even enforced the planting of shade trees and the beautifying of lawns. St. Joseph still plants trees in the parkings. Kansas City plants trees in the parkings, and if property owners do not attend to them where needed, the city plants the trees and taxes the cost against the property the same as other improvements. They not only plant trees in the parkings in Kansas City, but in the boulevard districts, which are said to be the finest in the country, they are planting two rows of trees in the parkings. Carthage plants trees in the parkings. Joplin encourages the planting of shade trees in the parkings and where owners are needy they supply the trees free of charge. Moberly has been transformed from a dreary looking railroad town into a beautiful little city by her shade trees and handsome homes.

Under our present system shade trees cannot be planted in the parkings, and when the trees in the parkings become old or are blown down they cannot be replaced. Thus our shaded streets that are a pride and attract the attention of visitors will become eventually ragged and have but a tree now and then, and the people will be ashamed of them. It has been said that he who plants a tree is a friend to man. The Democrat-Forum believes that is true.

STANDARD OIL IS DENOUNCED

Walsh Board Flays Company For Attitude In Bayonne Strike.

DECENT WAGES ARE NOT PAID

Refusal to Deal With Union Representatives Criticised In the Report of Investigators For the Federal Industrial Commission.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—The report of George P. West and C. T. Chenery, who investigated the July, 1915, strike of the Standard Oil company's employees at Bayonne N. J., for the United States commission on industrial relations, was made public by Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the commission. The report said in part, after stating that the strike was against the Standard Oil company of New Jersey:

"The company is the most important of the Standard Oil group and is the principal contributor to the wealth, prestige and power of the largest estate in the country, if not in the world, that of John D. Rockefeller, Sr., and his immediate family.

"The facts regarding the company's labor policies must therefore be regarded as of special importance, because of the tremendous power wielded by the group of men who control this industry, and because of their announced intention to enter the field of industrial relations with a view of widening their influence and activity by propagating what they deem to be the proper theories and principles that should govern the relations between employer and employee.

Findings of Fact.

"The following findings of fact are to be considered in the light of the foregoing:

"'The Standard Oil company of New Jersey, although conducting an enormously profitable enterprise, pays wages too low to maintain a family on a comfortable, healthful basis.

"It fixes wages not with relation to the earnings of the company, but by taking into consideration wages paid by other companies in the same locality and then fixing the wage as low or lower than the prevailing wage in that locality.

"The company maintains a settled policy of refusing to deal with any labor organization or 'professional labor man,' and even refuses to permit those employees who cannot speak English intelligibly to engage an attorney as their spokesman and representative.

"The company has instituted no machinery by which real or fancied grievances may be peacefully and promptly adjusted. The officials say that any man has access to the general superintendent, but the employees allege that they would be discharged before reaching the office."

The report gave a long history of the strike and of the disorders which accompanied it. It accused the Standard Oil company of urging the Bayonne police to keep strikers off the streets and asserted that the attempt to do so caused the first riot on July 20.

History of Platte Purchase And Famous Men of Northwest Missouri

(By Prof. B. F. Duncan, Kansas City.)

When Missouri finally became a sovereign state in 1821 its west line ran due north from the mouth of the Kansas river to the south line of Iowa territory, simply an extension of that line south of the confluence of the Missouri and Kansas rivers. The territory lying west of this state line and east of the Missouri river was at that time owned and occupied by Indians and was then locally known as the "Platte country."

Under the laws of the United States and of the state of Missouri passed in 1836, and by virtue of the treaty with these Indian tribes, ratified in 1837, this beautiful, attractive and fertile portion of this state then became a part of Missouri under the historic name of the "Platte Purchase." From this ceded area were later carved the six Missouri counties of Platte, Buchanan, Andrew, Holt, Atchison and Nodaway, between 1838 and 1845.

Attracted by the genial climate, rich soil and untold wealth of this newly ceded country, the love of adventure and hope of fame and fortune soon swept throughout the Platte Purchase many strong, clear, scholarly and eloquent lawyers. The cavaliers who became known to the world as the "Knights of the Golden Horseshoe," did not cross the Blue Ridge mountains and explore the valley of Virginia with higher hopes or greater enthusiasm than then filled the hearts and souls of these early-day pioneers.

For judicial purposes, the territory thus acquired as at first attached to the Fifth circuit of Missouri, which was then presided over by Judge Austin A. King, of Richmond, who in 1848 became governor of Missouri. Judge King held the first term of the circuit court for the Platte Purchase at the Falls of the Platte river in May, 1839.

But in 1841 David R. Atchinson of Platte, was made the judge of their circuit court, with both civil and criminal jurisdiction over a vast scope of country. Judge Atchison was later a United States senator from Missouri for twelve years, commencing in 1843, and while serving as the president pro tem. of that body is credited with the honor of having been president of the United States for one day. Robert Wilson of Andrew, was made a United States senator from Missouri in 1862.

Four members of the bar within the Platte Purchase have been honored governors of Missouri, viz: Robert M. Stewart, Willard P. Hall, and Silas Woodson of Buchanan, and Albert P. Morehouse of Nodaway.

And the following named members of that bar have also served the people as judges of the Supreme court of Missouri, namely: Philemon Bliss, Henry M. Voris, Archelaus M. Woodson of Buchanan, and Elijah Hise Norton of Platte, who only last month there died in his ninety-third year; while that learned, fearless, clear-headed magician of the law, Stephen S. Brown of Buchanan, is now (1915) serving on that bench as commissioner of this same court.

Strong, rugged and stalwart Benjamin F. Stringfellow, before removing to Platte, was attorney general of Missouri in 1845, and the scholarly, superb and eloquent James B. Gardenshire of Buchanan, also filled that office with distinguished ability from 1851 to 1856.

The branch of the Kansas City Court of Appeals has been ornamented by Willard P. Hall (the yonuger) and James M. Johnson of Buchanan, and W. W. Ramsey of Nodaway.

Isaac C. Parker, a conspicuous member of the Buchanan bar, was first the judge of the St. Joseph Circuit court, then a member of the United States congress for four years, and then in 1875 President Grant made him the United States district judge at Fort Smith, Arkansas. From that time on to his death many years later, Judge Parker continued to enforce the law so vigorously and have criminals executed so promptly that he became known as "the hanging judge."

President Cleveland, during his first term, appointed the versatile Lafe Dawson of Nodaway, judge of the United States district court of Alaska; but the climate of the frozen north was so rigorous that he resigned his office, and later died at his old home in Maryville.

Among many others not now recalled it is well to note that the following named members of this bar who have been honored by the people after leaving the Platte Purchase were: Joseph K. Toole, governor of Montana, and Charles N. Wright, attorney-general of Colorado, both of Buchanan, and John P. Altgeld, once of Andrew, and later governor of Illinois.

Mention is here made of two eminent lawyers and great men of the Platte Purchase in the years that are gone, not only because the name and fame of each should be honored and perpetuated, but because each was a personal friend, James Craig and Bela M. Hughes.

The formers was an officer in the war with Mexico, a general in the Civil War, a member of Congress, the president of the old H. and St. Joseph railroad, and few of earth have surpassed him as a lawyer, public speaker and entertaining raconteur; while on account of the approaching troublous times, Bela M. Hughes quit the Buchanan bar in 1861, located at Denver. No man in public or private life exerted a more potential power for good upon the jurisprudence, and public and political life of Colorado than did this strong, clear, able lawyer.

Memories of the long past, reflecting upon the traditions, records and achievements of the pioneer lawyer of the Platte Purchase, recall the power and ability of those leviathans of its bar who in early years swam about in the vast sea of the law with so much confident ease, and with a sigh of regret the historian may well pause and for a moment dwell upon the wise words of the Book of Books.—"There were giants in the earth in those days."

SWINE SPREAD THE DISEASE.

New Outbreak Emphasizes Need of a Careful Inspection by Farmers and Stockraisers.

The susceptibility of swine to the foot-and-mouth disease and the failure on the part of swine owners to recognize its symptoms are giving the federal authorities no small amount of worry in their "clean-up" campaign.

Sore mouth, a common indication of the disease, is an ordinary sequence of hog cholera, and contusions on the feet are frequent in swine which have been driven or shipped. For these reasons little attention is paid by the owners of swine to these symptoms, and unless the herd is located within suspicious territory foot-and-mouth disease may continue in a chronic form for a considerable length of time before discovery. The danger of course lies in the ability of these animals to desseminate the disease.

Since the first case of foot-and-mouth disease found in a herd of hogs in Michigan, which later permitted the infection of the Chicago stock yards, hogs more than any other animal have been responsible for the spread of the disease. A few months ago, in the outskirts of Philadelphia, in a district containing close to 20,000 swine kept in small lots, several thousand were found to be infected.

On July 29 foot-and-mouth disease infection was discovered to exist in a herd of 20 cattle within the city limits of Hornell, Steuben county, New York. Another herd of 25 cattle, pastured across the road from these, has been exposed and is under surveillance. As no known cases of the disease had previously been found within a radius of over 75 miles, the source of the infection remained a mystery until two days later, when 125 swine, divided among five herds, were found infected within a half mile of the first discovered premises.

These swine had evidently had the disease in a mild form for a considerable length of time. Infection had been carried from these to the cattle through drainage.

This again emphasizes the need, the authorities state, for continued careful examination of all live stock in previously infected areas, especially large herds of swine. Farmers and stock raisers by giving immediate notice of any suspicious cases to the nearest health officer will greatly aid the authorities in their efforts to eleminate this pest, which if allowed to gain a foothold would result in untold damage to the nation.

Owing to the fact that few animals are shipped from the section in which the latest outbreak occured, it is believed that no serious or widespread complications will result from this new center of infection.

That there are airquakes, caused by the explosion of meteors in the atmosphere and entirely independent of earthquakes, is a theory advanced by an eminent English astronomer.

Would Catch Some in Bed.

Clyde Knox makes this suggestion: Why doesn't somebody start for the fad early morning calls for the summer months? Between 6 and 8 o'clock in the morning is the most comfortable part of the day now and will be until some time in September. And surely the most comfortable time is the proper time to see your friends. It would be delightful to receive all callers before 8 o'clock in the morning and know that you could safely remain in a cool garb during the afternoon without fear of being caught. This might work all right in some towns, but in Hopkins, if callers arrived before eight o'clock in the morning, they would catch quite a few of us in bed.—Hopkins Journal.

Preventable Deaths.

Every year more lives are lost by accident and preventable deaths than have been destroyed in this country in all our wars since the Declaration of Independence.

According to a Finnish scientist, the air around pine trees is purer than that around others because their needles disseminate electricity into the atmosphere and ozonize it.

BEST TALKING MONTH UNDECIDED

Question Whether a Woman Can Say More in June or December Debated at Baptist Convention.

"Does a woman talk more in December than in June?" This interesting but futile problem came before the state assembly of young Baptists in their convention at Arcadia Heights last week. No decision was reached.

The Rev. L. M. Hale of Maryville, was one of those who took the affirmative.

Arthur Flak of Mississippi, was the judge of the debate. He held that "as there never is any time when a woman is not talking, it is impossible for me to determine, from the arguments, whether she talks most in December or in June."

RIOT AT NOGALES

United States Soldiers Run Mexicans Across the Line.

Nogales, Ariz., Aug. 16.—Scores of American soldiers were participants in a riot on the streets of Nogales as the result, it is said, of a rumor that Mexicans had threatened to take their guns away. Ten Mexicans were attacked before the officers got control of the men. One American is reported to have been slain in Nogales, Mex., just across the border from here, by infuriated Mexicans.

The soldiers that engaged in the rioting were members of the Twelfth infantry and the Sixth field artillery. They were joined by a number of civilians, who shouted "Run all the Mexicans across the line."

The riot was the culmination of high feeling between Americans and Mexicans. Soldiers, it is said, had been pushed off the sidewalks by Mexicans and subjected to other petty insults.

On Which We All Agree.

It is a perfect hostess who tempts one's appetite these days with a slice of luscious ice cold watermelon; just a piece of the pink heart, laying on a big grape leaf. We all know how it tastes, but none of us have ever yet equaled the description by Mark Twain, who said:

"I know how a prize watermelon looks when it is sunning its fat rotundity among pumpkin vines and cymlings. I know how inviting it looks when it lies on the table in the sheltered great fire space between house and kitchen and the children gather for the sacrifice and their mouths watering. I know the crackling sound it makes when the carving knife enters its end and I can see the split fly along in front of the blade as the knife cleaves its way to the other end. I can see its halves fall apart and display the rich, red meat and the black seeds, and the heart standing up, a luxury fit for the elect. I know how a boy looks behind a yard-long slice of that melon, and I know how he feels, for I have been there. I know the taste of the melon which has been honestly come by and I know the taste of the watermelon which has been acquired by art. Both taste good, but the experienced know which tastes the best."

TO ENTER FOWLS FOR FAIR

Missouri Poultry Breeders Expect to Send 2 Cars to Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Missouri poultry breeders who expect to exhibit their fowls at the Panama-Pacific Universal Exposition Poultry Show the last of November are urged to send their names and probable number of entries to E. C. McCarroll, Vandalia, at once, so that proper arrangements can be made for expressing the birds to San Francisco.

Some changes in the previously announced plan for assembling the fowls at Kansas City will have to be made, as the entries must be in San Francisco not later than October 15. For that reason it will not be possible to judge the birds at Kansas City just before loading to withdraw an entry at that time.

Mr. Carroll announces that all entries should be sent in his care, not later than October 5, and if there are more fowls offered than the State has made arrangements to pay transportation, he can then prorate the entries in the free car, and if the owners then want to pay charges on additional birds they will be at liberty to do so and all entries can be filed within the time limit.

Missouri to Send Two Carloads.

While the closing time for entries seems to be a long time away, there is no time to lose in getting the arrangements completed. From the observations of The Republic's poultry editor on his trips over the State there will be two or three carloads of Missouri's best poultry competing at the show in San Francisco, even if the owners have to pay all expenses there and back.

Confidentially, if enough birds are listed in the preliminary registration there is little doubt that the means will be forthcoming for transportation on two or three cars of Missouri fowls, so send your name and a list of probable entries today to Mr. McCarroll, who is superintendent of the poultry exhibit for the Missouri Fair Commission, of which W. A. Dallmeyer of Jefferson City is chairman.

Americans Heavy Smokers.

Your Uncle Samuel has quite a bunch of heavy smokers. For instance, millions of men and some few women spent $700,000,000 for tobacco last year. Many people have been out of work and times in some localities have been "hard," yet the tobacco habit has been going right along entirely undisturbed by lack of work or hard times, it seems.

For cigars we spent $446,000,000!

Cigarettes cost us $73,000,000!

Smoking and chewing tobacco set us back $157,000,000!

Snuff extracted $24,000,000 from our pocketbooks!

Despite the great anti-cigarette fight that has been waged in the United States, the production of "coffin nails" has increased 450 per cent in the last 10 years. Cigars and smoking tobacco increased a little. Plug tobacco has about held its own. The production of snuff has about doubled in the last 10 years.

Mrs. Lewis Anderson went to Bedison yesterday to spend a week visiting her son, William Anderson, and family.

RUSS CONTINUE TO RETREAT

Slavs Just Able to Keep In Lead of Teutons.

GERMANS ADVANCE STEADILY.

Are Slowly Drawing Their Net About Brest-Litovsk—Kovno Is Likely to Fall Soon, as Czar's Troops Fail In Sortie From That City.

WAR SUMMARY

All along the line of the eastern front in northwest Russia and Poland the German armies, according to Berlin, again are in full swing against the Russians, who everywhere have been driven or repulsed in attempts to make stands. Little fighting of a sanguinary character is in progress except in the east, although there has been a hand-to-hand engagement near Bagetelle, France, for an excavation made by the explosion of a French mine, a resumption of bombardment by the French and a counter attack by the Germans against Semlin and Panscova, in Servia, and battling on the Gallipoli peninsula and in Asiatic Turkey, with the Turks claiming the advantage in the former region against the allies, and the Russians asserting that in the latter zone the Ottoman forces have been defeated.

London, Aug. 16.—Having recovered from the check inflicted on him last week by the Russians, General von Buelow, commanding that portion of the army of Field Marshal von Hindenburg operating to the west of the river Dvinsk, has again taken the offensive and, according to the official report published by Berlin, has beaten the Russians in a battle in the vicinity of Kubisko and pushed them back in a northeasterly direction, taking more than 2,000 prisoners.

To the south, before Kovno, the Russians, according to the same source of information, made an unsuccessful sortie from Kovno, which the Germans are now approaching.

In the Polish sector, the large armies are slowly drawing in their line and advancing from the northwest and south of Brest-Litovsk. While they continue to take comparatively small groups of prisoners, they make no gains to the capture of artillery, which is considered by military observers as a fair indication that Grand Duke Nicholas' armies continue their orderly retreat and that for a long time to come will be able to prevent the Germans from detaching any part of their army for large ventures elsewhere.

Bombard Belgrade.

The only evidence of activity outside of Poland and the Baltic provinces is on the Servian frontier, where a bombardment of Belgrade by the Austrians and a counter bombardment of Semlin and Panscova by the Servians has been resumed. According to Nish, Austrian attempts to cross the Danube near the Servian and Roumanian borders have been repulsed, but it is believed by the military experts that this region will be the scene of the next Austro-German offensive.

There is some speculation in military circles whether Roumania, as well as Servia, will be attacked because of Roumania's refusal to allow munitions of war to pass through to Turkey, which is being pressed on its Caucasus and Dardanelles fronts.

There is no late news from the Dardanelles, but information is hourly expected of a new movement of landings by the allies.

Across the forest of the Argonne and the Vosges mountains continue to be the scenes of activity on the western front, but no serious battles are in progress in any of these regions.

BALKAN CRISIS APPROACHING

Teutons Plan to Force Way Through to Relieve Turkey's Need of Shells.

London, Aug. 16.—Affairs in the Balkans are approaching a crisis. While diplomatic negotiations are proceeding in an effort to induce states still neutral to cast their lot with one side or the other, the central powers have massed troops on the Balkan frontiers. Their plan, it is supposed, is to force a way through to relieve what it believed to be Turkey's need of shells.

This concentration, which has been followed by an artillery attack on Servian positions, is equally a menace to Roumania, which again has refused to permit shells to pass through its territory to Turkey. The Roumanian army already is partly mobilized and four new divisions of reserves now have been called out. Bulgaria has as yet made no move while awaiting the reply of the quarduple entente to its demand that Servia and Greece concede Macedonia to it in return for its military support.

Officers Chief Need of U. S. Army.

Plattsburgh, N. Y., Aug. 16.—The United States has plenty of material for a volunteer army of 1,250,000 men and all that is now needed are plans for utilizing it, Major General Leonard Wood declared here in a statement as to the preparedness of the nation for war. The chief need, he said, was officers and advocated training students in their junior and senior years along the same lines as now are being used at the military camp of instruction here.

AMERICAN REPLY TO AUSTRIA'S COMPLAINT

Sale of Munitions Strictly Within Meaning of Neutrality.

Washington, Aug. 16.—The state department made public the reply of the United States rejecting views set forth by the Austro-Hungarian recent note, declaring that transportation of war munitions from the United States to Austrian enemies was conducted on such a scale as to be "not in consonance with the definition of neutrality."

Though friendly in tone, the note flatly denies the Austro-Hungarian contentions and recalls that that country and Germany furnished munitions of war to Great Britain for the Boer war when England's enemies could not import such supplies.

It insisted that the American government is pursuing a strictly neutral course and adhering to a principle upon which it would depend for munitions in the markets of the world in case it should be attacked by a foreign power.

Attention is directed to the fact that Austria-Hungary and Germany before the war produced a great surplus of war munitions and sold them throughout the world, "especially to belligerents," and that "never during that period did either of them suggest or apply the principle now advocated by the imperial and royal government."

FIND CHARGES BASELESS

Utah University President Not Supported In Fight Against Faculty.

Salt Lake, Aug. 16.—The complete report of the committee of inquiry, appointed by the American Association of University Professors, to investigate conditions at the University of Utah, made public here, concludes that of the four charges given by the president of the university as reasons for dismissing professors last spring, "three specify no proper grounds for such action and the fourth is without basis in fact."

Not only does the report find that Professors Knowlton Wise, Snow and Bing were dropped without cause, but it gives pungent criticism of the conduct of the university by Professor Kingsbury and the board of regents.

Hold Batteries In Readiness.

Lawton, Okla., Aug. 16.—General Mann at Fort Sill received orders from General Funston's headquarters to hold batteries B and E in readiness to entrain for the Brownsville districts.

Women Sailors on Russian Ships.

London, Aug. 16.—A Reuter's dispatch from Riga, the great Russian Baltic seaport, states that women are replacing the sailors on the Volga river steamers.

Greeks Called to Colors.

Athens, Aug. 16.—Army recruits of the 1915 class were called to the colors.

TEAMSTERS' STRIKE IN ST. LOUIS OVER

St. Louis, Aug. 16.—The strike of the 1,500 teamsters and chauffeurs, which started Friday night, was settled. The strikers were granted an increase of 50 cents weekly, a reduction of one hour in the day's work and better working conditions. The wage increases, according to the team owners, will aggregate $60,000 a year, whereas the original demands of the men called for increases totaling $180,000. The strikers returned to work today.

The settlement was brought about by Father Timothy Dempsey, a Catholic priest, who induced leaders of both sides to agree to a joint meeting.

FEDS SHUT OUT STANBERRY 9-0

ONE THOUSAND FANS GOT REVENGE IN ONE-SIDED GAME.

HAWTHORNE FANNED 3; WAS HIT FOR 26 BASES

Red Sox Manager and Pitcher Humbled by Maryville—Willey Struck Out 14—Play Again Aug. 29.

The backbone of the Stanberry Red Sox has been broken. The Maryville Federals have done it. They started it two weeks ago when they defeated the almost invincibles 2 to 1 on the enemy's grounds, and finished the job, good and proper, at Federal park here yesterday afternoon, while 1,000 joyous and over-joyous fans and rooters played "Yankee Doodle" to the tune of 9 to 0, with the accent on the goose egg.

So also has Hawthorne, that much feared manager and pitcher for the Red Sox, been humbled and made to "bite the dust." For it might be emphasized that Hawthorne, that dumpy little twirler and boss, struck out but three Feds and was hit fifteen times, six of them being two-baggers and three being three-baggers.

Stanberry Badly Humbled.

The more than 1,000 fans yesterday expected to see the Federals win—that is, all but a few did, but none were so optimistic of far seeing as to predict that it would be a shut-out game in favor of the Federals. In fact, the game was so one-sided that some fans got disgusted and urged the Red Sox to play a little ball.

Stanberry didn't look like the champion amateur team of northwest Missouri yesterday. Not when it had such men as Willey, Richardson, Rapps, Tilson, Scott and others to play against. It might be as a Gentry editor remarked some time ago, that Stanberry only needed a defeat or two and the team would go "up in the air" just like any others. It looks now as though the Gentry editor was correct in the assumption.

Willey Allowed But 4 Hits.

While Hawthorne was being hit for twenty-six bases yesterday, and but three "fanned" to him, Willey, that little slippery elm spit pitcher of the Feds, was striking out fourteen of the Stanberry batters and allowing but five bases on hits.

And, oh, how sweet is revenge! At least the 1,000 that saw the game at least thought so, for it was the sole topic of the base ball enthusiasts—both male and female—over Maryville last night. Even today the thought is uppermost in the minds of the real fans.

But Stanberry will have another chance to try its luck. A return game with Stanberry at Stanberry is scheduled by Cleve Funk, Federal manager, for Sunday, August 29.

The gate receipts yesterday were $220, while the grand stand netted $30 more. Every available seat was occupied and half the crowd overflowed into the wings of the fields and took up every available niche of space within sight of the diamond.

Stanberry Had 2 Scoring Chances.

But getting down to the real plays of the game. Maryville started the scoring in the second inning when two came home, they being Richardson and Miller. Each run was earned. Rapp scored in the third inning on a single and a two-bagger by Richardson. They failed to get a batter around the bases in the fourth inning, but came back strong in the fifth, and Palfreyman and Richardson scored.

Carmichael and Palfreyman also scored in the sixth and Miller and Morris brought in the final runs in the seventh inning.

Stanberry came near scoring only two times during the entire game. The first near opportunity came in the second inning, when H. Summa got first on a fielder's choice, went to third on a bad throw by Richardson to second to prevent a steal, but met his fate while trying to come home from third when a thrown ball by Richardson hit him and rolled off.

The other near chance came in the fourth inning, when Lynch took first on an error and went to third on a double by Summa, where he died peacefully.

Feds Play Clarinda Next.

One double play was made yesterday when Willey fielded an easy fair ball by H. Summa, threw to Scotty, who threw out McClain at second and then threw to first and killed H. Summa.

Tilson played first base fine and got four hits, one being a "scratch" hit to center field.

BOOSTERS PLAY ALL STARS

St. Joseph Team Comes Tomorrow for Game—Will Not Play Thursday—Season Near End.

The Maryville Boosters will play the fast amateur team of St. Joseph known as the All-Stars tomorrow afternoon at the Normal grounds, beginning at 2 o'clock. The game scheduled with Easton here Thursdday has been called off, as no game will be played here Thursday on account of the tournament at Hopkins then. The game tomorrow will begin earlier than usual to allow the visitors time to return on the Burlington at 4:44.

The game tomorrow is being looked forward to as being one of the fastest of the season on the Normal grounds. The Boosters will have Wakeman in the box, and Richardson, that nifty Federal catcher, as receiver. "Dirty" Miller will play second base. The remainder of the lineup will be as formerly.

That means that Wray will probably take first base; Rapp, third base; Palfreyman, shortstop; Vandersloot, left field; Still or Scott, center field, and Moore, right field.

An effort has been made to get a game with the Stanberry Red Sox, but as they will play only Sunday games it has been impossible.

The Booster base ball season ends August 26.

The All-Star lineup is announced as follows:

Ruedy, lf; Hooper, cf; Cree, 2b; Watson, 3b; Jennings, 2b; Brassing, 1b; Stewart, rf; Slater, c; Mansfield, p.

S. O. HUTCHISON IS DEAD

Had Lived in Maryville 37 Years—Was Formerly in Implement Business—Cancer Causes Death.

Samuel Oscar Hutchison, 62 years old, who had been a resident of Maryville for thirty-seven years, died at 7 o'clock this morning at the family home, 610 West Third street. Mr. Hutchison had been in poor health for the past few years, and for four months had been steadily failing. Two weeks ago his condition became serious, and from that time until his death he was unable to leave his bed.

Mr. Hutchison was born in Oxford, Pa., April 7, 1853. When he came to Maryville he followed his profession of teaching, and was at one time principal of the city high school. Later he went into the implement business, remaining a number of years. For the last ten year, until his failing health prevented active work, Mr. Hutchison has been employed as a traveling salesman.

In May, 1880, Mr. Hutchison was married at Oxford, Pa., to Miss Anna Belle Mosteller, who, with three sons, survive. The sons are Fred, William and Forrest, at home. The elder son was a student last year at the Missouri state university, and the younger ones are in the city high school.

Mr. Hutchison is also survived by five brothers and sisters. They are Mrs. Morgan Andrews of Los Angeles, Cal.; Will H. Hutchison of Caryhurst, Wyo.; A. A. Hutchison and Mrs. Samuel Walker of Oxford, Pa., and Eb Hutchison of Walter, Okla.

No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral services.

Dick Hotchkin Will Occupy Room Being Vacated by Arnetts Next Month.

A 5 and 10-cent store will be established in the building at 111 West Third street September 1 by Dick Hotchkin, formerly manager of the Graham-Latimer store here, and for the last three weeks solicitor for the Tribune.

The room is being vacated today by the Arnett Decorating company, which will establish all its line in the shop adjoining the Dr. J. H. Todd residence, on West Third street.

Telephone Girls Return.

Miss Nellie Trullinger, chief operator, and Miss Nannie Keenan, toll operator in the Mutual telephone exchange, returned Saturday from a two weeks vacation trip, during which they visited Colorado Springs, Manitou and Denver, Col., and Cheyenne, Wyo.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baker are at Sequiogh, Mo., where they went Friday to spend a month's vacation.

MUCH PAVING MAY DIE; OWNERS KICK

BELIEVE MOST STREET IMPROVEMENTS WILL BE KILLED.

JENKINS AND PART OF MARKET GOES THROUGH

All Propositions Fought by Resident Property Proprietors But One—Council Meets Tomorrow Night.

That most of the proposed paving of forty street blocks in Maryville will be "killed" as a result of remonstrances filed by property owners on every street proposed for improvement but one is evident, according to M. A. Peery, a member of the street committee of the city council. The only paving that is cetrain to carry is that on Market from the alley north of First street to Third street, and on Jenkins from Market to Main, Mr. Peery said.

The street committee of the council, which consists of Mr. Peery, Bert Raines and Edward Dragoo, determined in a special conference Saturday afternoon that the proposition to pave Market from Edwards to the alley north of First would not carry, as twenty-six property owners are declared to be against paving, compared to twenty-two who did not sign any remonstrance.

Part of Market May Be Paved.

The committee also found that only four out of eleven property owners on Market from Third to the alley north of First remonstrated, so that part will evidently be paved. As no remonstrance was filed against paving Jenkins, that also will probably be paved. If only these two carry, however, it is feared there will be trouble in inducing a paver to take the contract for such a small amount—at least, not at the usual paving cost.

There is a possibility of other streets being paved, however, as there may not be enough property owners given on the remonstrances to override the wishes of those not opposed to the street improvements.

The fate of the other propositions will be decided by the street committee in another special conference this afternoon or tonight, Mr. Peery said.

Council Meets Tomorrow.

Their findings will then be placed before the council in special session tomorrow night, when ordinances to pave all proposed streets where sufficient remonstrance was not made, will be considered.

A remonstrance was filed against all the paving resolutions except that to pave Jenkins street. The last to be filed was against paving Ninth street from Mulberry to the east line of the Normal grounds. These are given as opposed to that improvement:

A. S. Robey, Mrs. Kate Ratcliffe, Mrs. Kate McFarland, E. E. Lloyd, Stella D. Lloyd, Mrs. Mary Costello and A. W. Hawkins.

Little other business is scheduled to come up for consideration before the council tomorrow night.

OBSTRUCTION IS BEING REMOVED.

Earth Dump at Power Plant, Which Damaged Street, Will Be Eliminated.

The big earth dump at the north side of the power plant of the Maryville Electric Light and Power company, Fifth and Buchanan streets, which was placed there last winter by the power company, when the basement was enlarged, is at last being removed.

The dump has caused considerable damage to Fifth street from Buchanan to Fillmore, by causing the surface water to be drained into the middle and across the street.

WHAT THEY LIKE IN MARYVILLE.

The Hon. Victor Murdock announced during his brief stay here that he liked Maryville. He had taken a walk and had observed quickly. So he announced that he had been favorably impressed with our homes and our trees. And because of our outward evidences of progress and pride he approved of us.

Mr. Murdock comes from a state where trees are few and where they are appreciated. No one thing adds so much to the beauty of a city as an abundance of shade trees, and nothing is so much coveted where they do not grow naturally. They can build as fine houses in the parched desert and in the arid regions of the west as we can in Missouri, but they can't build big shade trees in less than an average life time. The beauty of Maryville lays in her homes, her trees and her streets as it does in every other city that lays claim to beauty.

It is therefore more than surprising that Maryville permits an ordinance to remain among its laws restraining property owners from planting shade trees in the parkings. If Mr. Murdock had known that our shaded streets would some day be a thing of the past, he would have criticised rather than approved of us. The ordinance was passed some years ago to gratify some passing fancy, but it has not been taken seriously, and has not been generally observed. The present city council, however, has undertaken to enforce the rule against setting trees in the parkings.

We do not know whether there are any other cities having such an ordinance or not, but if so, they are few. Cities which have become known for progress and public spirit have encouraged and even enforced the planting of shade trees and the beautifying of lawns. St. Joseph still plants trees in the parkings. Kansas City plants trees in the parkings, and if property owners do not attend to them where needed, the city plants the trees and taxes the cost against the property the same as other improvements. They not only plant trees in the parkings in Kansas City, but in the boulevard districts, which are said to be the finest in the country, they are planting two rows of trees in the parkings. Carthage plants trees in the parkings. Joplin encourages the planting of shade trees in the parkings and where owners are needy they supply the trees free of charge. Moberly has been transformed from a dreary looking railroad town into a beautiful little city by her shade trees and handsome homes.

Under our present system shade trees cannot be planted in the parkings, and when the trees in the parkings become old or are blown down they cannot be replaced. Thus our shaded streets that are a pride and attract the attention of visitors will become eventually ragged and have but a tree now and then, and the people will be ashamed of them. It has been said that he who plants a tree is a friend to man. The Democrat-Forum believes that is true.

STANDARD OIL IS DENOUNCED

Walsh Board Flays Company For Attitude In Bayonne Strike.

DECENT WAGES ARE NOT PAID

Refusal to Deal With Union Representatives Criticised In the Report of Investigators For the Federal Industrial Commission.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—The report of George P. West and C. T. Chenery, who investigated the July, 1915, strike of the Standard Oil company's employees at Bayonne N. J., for the United States commission on industrial relations, was made public by Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the commission. The report said in part, after stating that the strike was against the Standard Oil company of New Jersey:

"The company is the most important of the Standard Oil group and is the principal contributor to the wealth, prestige and power of the largest estate in the country, if not in the world, that of John D. Rockefeller, Sr., and his immediate family.

"The facts regarding the company's labor policies must therefore be regarded as of special importance, because of the tremendous power wielded by the group of men who control this industry, and because of their announced intention to enter the field of industrial relations with a view of widening their influence and activity by propagating what they deem to be the proper theories and principles that should govern the relations between employer and employee.

Findings of Fact.

"The following findings of fact are to be considered in the light of the foregoing:

"'The Standard Oil company of New Jersey, although conducting an enormously profitable enterprise, pays wages too low to maintain a family on a comfortable, healthful basis.

"It fixes wages not with relation to the earnings of the company, but by taking into consideration wages paid by other companies in the same locality and then fixing the wage as low or lower than the prevailing wage in that locality.

"The company maintains a settled policy of refusing to deal with any labor organization or 'professional labor man,' and even refuses to permit those employees who cannot speak English intelligibly to engage an attorney as their spokesman and representative.

"The company has instituted no machinery by which real or fancied grievances may be peacefully and promptly adjusted. The officials say that any man has access to the general superintendent, but the employees allege that they would be discharged before reaching the office."

The report gave a long history of the strike and of the disorders which accompanied it. It accused the Standard Oil company of urging the Bayonne police to keep strikers off the streets and asserted that the attempt to do so caused the first riot on July 20.

History of Platte Purchase And Famous Men of Northwest Missouri

When Missouri finally became a sovereign state in 1821 its west line ran due north from the mouth of the Kansas river to the south line of Iowa territory, simply an extension of that line south of the confluence of the Missouri and Kansas rivers. The territory lying west of this state line and east of the Missouri river was at that time owned and occupied by Indians and was then locally known as the "Platte country."

Under the laws of the United States and of the state of Missouri passed in 1836, and by virtue of the treaty with these Indian tribes, ratified in 1837, this beautiful, attractive and fertile portion of this state then became a part of Missouri under the historic name of the "Platte Purchase." From this ceded area were later carved the six Missouri counties of Platte, Buchanan, Andrew, Holt, Atchison and Nodaway, between 1838 and 1845.

Attracted by the genial climate, rich soil and untold wealth of this newly ceded country, the love of adventure and hope of fame and fortune soon swept throughout the Platte Purchase many strong, clear, scholarly and eloquent lawyers. The cavaliers who became known to the world as the "Knights of the Golden Horseshoe," did not cross the Blue Ridge mountains and explore the valley of Virginia with higher hopes or greater enthusiasm than then filled the hearts and souls of these early-day pioneers.

For judicial purposes, the territory thus acquired as at first attached to the Fifth circuit of Missouri, which was then presided over by Judge Austin A. King, of Richmond, who in 1848 became governor of Missouri. Judge King held the first term of the circuit court for the Platte Purchase at the Falls of the Platte river in May, 1839.

But in 1841 David R. Atchinson of Platte, was made the judge of their circuit court, with both civil and criminal jurisdiction over a vast scope of country. Judge Atchison was later a United States senator from Missouri for twelve years, commencing in 1843, and while serving as the president pro tem. of that body is credited with the honor of having been president of the United States for one day. Robert Wilson of Andrew, was made a United States senator from Missouri in 1862.

Four members of the bar within the Platte Purchase have been honored governors of Missouri, viz: Robert M. Stewart, Willard P. Hall, and Silas Woodson of Buchanan, and Albert P. Morehouse of Nodaway.

And the following named members of that bar have also served the people as judges of the Supreme court of Missouri, namely: Philemon Bliss, Henry M. Voris, Archelaus M. Woodson of Buchanan, and Elijah Hise Norton of Platte, who only last month there died in his ninety-third year; while that learned, fearless, clear-headed magician of the law, Stephen S. Brown of Buchanan, is now (1915) serving on that bench as commissioner of this same court.

Strong, rugged and stalwart Benjamin F. Stringfellow, before removing to Platte, was attorney general of Missouri in 1845, and the scholarly, superb and eloquent James B. Gardenshire of Buchanan, also filled that office with distinguished ability from 1851 to 1856.

The branch of the Kansas City Court of Appeals has been ornamented by Willard P. Hall (the yonuger) and James M. Johnson of Buchanan, and W. W. Ramsey of Nodaway.

Isaac C. Parker, a conspicuous member of the Buchanan bar, was first the judge of the St. Joseph Circuit court, then a member of the United States congress for four years, and then in 1875 President Grant made him the United States district judge at Fort Smith, Arkansas. From that time on to his death many years later, Judge Parker continued to enforce the law so vigorously and have criminals executed so promptly that he became known as "the hanging judge."

President Cleveland, during his first term, appointed the versatile Lafe Dawson of Nodaway, judge of the United States district court of Alaska; but the climate of the frozen north was so rigorous that he resigned his office, and later died at his old home in Maryville.

Among many others not now recalled it is well to note that the following named members of this bar who have been honored by the people after leaving the Platte Purchase were: Joseph K. Toole, governor of Montana, and Charles N. Wright, attorney-general of Colorado, both of Buchanan, and John P. Altgeld, once of Andrew, and later governor of Illnois.

Mention is here made of two eminent lawyers and great men of the Platte Purchase in the years that are gone, not only because the name and fame of each should be honored and perpetuated, but because each was a personal friend, James Craig and Bela M. Hughes.

The formers was an officer in the war with Mexico, a general in the Civil War, a member of Congress, the president of the old H. and St. Joseph railroad, and few of earth have surpassed him as a lawyer, public speaker and entertaining raconteur; while on account of the approaching troublous times, Bela M. Hughes quit the Buchanan bar in 1861, located at Denver. No man in public or private life exerted a more potential power for good upon the jurisprudence, and public and political life of Colorado than did this strong, clear, able lawyer.

Memories of the long past, reflecting upon the traditions, records and achievements of the pioneer lawyer of the Platte Purchase, recall the power and ability of those leviathans of its bar who in early years swam about in the vast sea of the law with so much confident ease, and with a sigh of regret the historian may well pause and for a moment dwell upon the wise words of the Book of Books.—"There were giants in the earth in those days."

SWINE SPREAD THE DISEASE.

New Outbreak Emphasizes Need of a Careful Inspection by Farmers and Stockraisers.

The susceptibility of swine to the foot-and-mouth disease and the failure on the part of swine owners to recognize its symptoms are giving the federal authorities no small amount of worry in their "clean-up" campaign.

Sore mouth, a common indication of the disease, is an ordinary sequence of hog cholera, and contusions on the feet are frequent in swine which have been driven or shipped. For these reasons little attention is paid by the owners of swine to these symptoms, and unless the herd is located within suspicious territory foot-and-mouth disease may continue in a chronic form for a considerable length of time before discovery. The danger of course lies in the ability of these animals to desseminate the disease.

Since the first case of foot-and-mouth disease found in a herd of hogs in Michigan, which later permitted the infection of the Chicago stock yards, hogs more than any other animal have been responsible for the spread of the disease. A few months ago, in the outskirts of Philadelphia, in a district containing close to 20,000 swine kept in small lots, several thousand were found to be infected.

On July 29 foot-and-mouth disease infection was discovered to exist in a herd of 20 cattle within the city limits of Hornell, Steuben county, New York. Another herd of 25 cattle, pastured across the road from these, has been exposed and is under surveillance. As no known cases of the disease had previously been found within a radius of over 75 miles, the source of the infection remained a mystery until two days later, when 125 swine, divided among five herds, were found infected within a half mile of the first discovered premises.

These swine had evidently had the disease in a mild form for a considerable length of time. Infection had been carried from these to the cattle through drainage.

This again emphasizes the need, the authorities state, for continued careful examination of all live stock in previously infected areas, especially large herds of swine. Farmers and stock raisers by giving immediate notice of any suspicious cases to the nearest health officer will greatly aid the authorities in their efforts to eleiminate this pest, which if allowed to gain a foothold would result in untold damage to the nation.

Owing to the fact that few animals are shipped from the section in which the latest outbreak occured, it is believed that no serious or widespread complications will result from this new center of infection.

That there are airquakes, caused by the explosion of meteors in the atmosphere and entirely independent of earthquakes, is a theory advanced by an eminent English astronomer.

Would Catch Some in Bed.

Clyde Knox makes this suggestion: Why doesn't somebody start for the fad early morning calls for the summer months? Between 6 and 8 o'clock in the morning is the most comfortable part of the day now and will be until some time in September. And surely the most comfortable time is the proper time to see your friends. It would be delightful to receive all callers before 8 o'clock in the morning and know that you could safely remain in a cool garb during the afternoon without fear of being caught. This might work all right in some towns, but in Hopkins, if callers arrived before eight o'clock in the morning, they would catch quite a few of us in bed.—Hopkins Journal.

BEST TALKING MONTH UNDECIDED

Question Whether a Woman Can Say More in June or December Debated at Baptist Convention.

"Does a woman talk more in December than in June?" This interesting but futile problem came before the state assembly of young Baptists in their convention at Arcadia Heights last week. No decision was reached.

The Rev. L. M. Hale of Maryville, was one of those who took the affirmative.

Arthur Flak of Mississippi, was the judge of the debate. He held that "as there never is any time when a woman is not talking, it is impossible for me to determine, from the arguments, whether she talks most in December or in June."

RIOT AT NOGALES

United States Soldiers Run Mexicans Across the Line.

Nogales, Ariz., Aug. 16.—Scores of American soldiers were participants in a riot on the streets of Nogales as the result, it is said, of a rumor that Mexicans had threatened to take their guns away. Ten Mexicans were attacked before the officers got control of the men. One American is reported to have been slain in Nogales, Mex., just across the border from here, by infuriated Mexicans.

The soldiers that engaged in the rioting were members of the Twelfth infantry and the Sixth field artillery. They were joined by a number of civilians, who shouted "Run all the Mexicans across the line."

The riot was the culmination of high feeling between Americans and Mexicans. Soldiers, it is said, had been pushed off the sidewalks by Mexicans and subjected to other petty insults.

SOCIETY and CLUBLAND

PHONES—OFFICE 42. HOME 683

On Which We All Agree.

It is a perfect hostess who tempts one's appetite these days with a slice of luscious ice cold watermelon; just a piece of the pink heart, laying on a big grape leaf. We all know how it tastes, but none of us have ever yet equaled the description by Mark Twain, who said:

"I know how a prize watermelon looks when it is sunning its fat rotundity among pumpkin vines and cymlings. I know how inviting it looks when it lies on the table in the sheltered great fire space between house and kitchen and the children gather for the sacrifice and their mouths watering. I know the crackling sound it makes when the carving knife enters its end and I can see the split fly along in front of the blade as the knife cleaves its way to the other end. I can see its halves fall apart and display the rich, red meat and the black seeds, and the heart standing up, a luxury fit for the elect. I know how a boy looks behind a yard-long slice of that melon, and I know how he feels, for I have been there. I know the taste of the melon which has been honestly come by and I know the taste of the watermelon which has been acquired by art. Both taste good, but the experienced know which tastes the best."

TO ENTER FOWLS FOR FAIR

Missouri Poultry Breeders Expect to Send 2 Cars to Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Missouri poultry breeders who expect to exhibit their fowls at the Panama-Pacific Universal Exposition Poultry Show the last of November are urged to send their names and probable number of entries to E. C. McCarroll, Vandalia, at once, so that proper arrangements can be made for expressing the birds to San Francisco.

Some changes in the previously announced plan for assembling the fowls at Kansas City will have to be made, as the entries must be in San Francisco not later than October 15. For that reason it will not be possible to judge the birds at Kansas City just before loading to withdraw an entry at that time.

Mr. Carroll announces that all entries should be sent in his care, not later than October 5, and if there are more fowls offered than the State has made arrangements to pay transportation, he can then prorate the entries in the free car, and if the owners then want to pay charges on additional birds they will be at liberty to do so and all entries can be filed within the time limit.

Missouri to Send Two Carloads.

While the closing time for entries seems to be a long time away, there is no time to lose in getting the arrangements completed. From the observations of The Republic's poultry editor on his trips over the State there will be two or three carloads of Missouri's best poultry competing at the show in San Francisco, even if the owners have to pay all expenses there and back.

Confidentially, if enough birds are listed in the preliminary registration there is little doubt that the means will be forthcoming for transportation on two or three cars of Missouri fowls, so send your name and a list of probable entries today to Mr. McCarroll, who is superintendent of the poultry exhibit for the Missouri Fair Commission, of which W. A. Dallmeyer of Jefferson City is chairman.

Americans Heavy Smokers.

Your Uncle Samuel has quite a bunch of heavy smokers. For instance, millions of men and some few women spent $700,000,000 for tobacco last year. Many people have been out of work and times in some localities have been "hard," yet the tobacco habit has been going right along entirely undisturbed by lack of work or hard times, it seems.

For cigars we spent $446,000,000!

Cigarettes cost us $73,000,000!

Smoking and chewing tobacco set us back $157,000,000!

Snuff extracted $24,000,000 from our pocketbooks!

Despite the great anti-cigarette fight that has been waged in the United States, the production of "coffin nails" has increased 450 per cent in the last 10 years. Cigars and smoking tobacco increased a little. Plug tobacco has about held its own. The production of snuff has about doubled in the last 10 years.

Mrs. Lewis Anderson went to Bedison yesterday to spend a week visiting her son, William Anderson, and family.

RUSS CONTINUE TO RETREAT

Slavs Just Able to Keep In Lead of Teutons.

GERMANS ADVANCE STEADILY.

WAR SUMMARY

All along the line of the eastern front in northwest Russia and Poland the German armies, according to Berlin, again are in full swing against the Russians, who everywhere have been driven or repulsed in attempts to make stands. Little fighting of a sanguinary character is in progress except in the east, although there has been a hand-to-hand engagement near Bagetelle, France, for an excavation made by the explosion of a French mine, a resumption of bombardment by the French and a counter attack by the Germans against Semlin and Panscova, in Servia, and battling on the Gallipoli peninsula and in Asiatic Turkey, with the Turks claiming the advantage in the former region against the allies, and the Russians asserting that in the latter zone the Ottoman forces have been defeated.

London, Aug. 16.—Having recovered from the check inflicted on him last week by the Russians, General von Buelow, commanding that portion of the army of Field Marshal von Hindenburg operating to the west of the river Dvinsk, has again taken the offensive and, according to the official report published by Berlin, has beaten the Russians in a battle in the vicinity of Kubisko and pushed them back in a northeasterly direction, taking more than 2,000 prisoners.

To the south, before Kovno, the Russians, according to the same source of information, made an unsuccessful sortie from Kovno, which the Germans are now approaching.

In the Polish sector, the large armies are slowly drawing in their line and advancing from the northwest and south of Brest-Litovsk. While they continue to take comparatively small groups of prisoners, they make no claim to the capture of artillery, which is considered by military observers as a fair indication that Grand Duke Nicholas' armies continue their orderly retreat and that for a long time to come will be able to prevent the Germans from detaching any part of their army for large ventures elsewhere.

Bombard Belgrade.

The only evidence of activity outside of Poland and the Baltic provinces is on the Servian frontier, where a bombardment of Belgrade by the Austrians and a counter bombardment of Semlin and Panscova by the Servians has been resumed. According to Nish, Austrian attempts to cross the Danube near the Servian and Roumanian borders have been repulsed, but it is believed by the military experts that this region will be the scene of the next Austro-German offensive.

There is some speculation in military circles whether Roumania, as well as Servia, will be attacked because of Roumania's refusal to allow munitions of war to pass through to Turkey, which is being pressed on its Caucasus and Dardanelles fronts.

There is no late news from the Dardanelles, but information is hourly expected of a new movement of landings by the allies.

Artoss, the forest of the Argonne and the Vosges mountains continue to be the scenes of activity on the western front, but no serious battles are in progress in any of these regions.

BALKAN CRISIS APPROACHING

Teutons Plan to Force Way Through to Relieve Turkey's Need of Shells.

London, Aug. 16—Affairs in the Balkans are approaching a crisis. While diplomatic negotiations are proceeding in an effort to induce states still neutral to cast their lot with one side or the other, the central powers have massed troops on the Balkan frontiers. Their plan, it is supposed, is to force a way through to relieve what it believed to be Turkey's need of shells.

This concentration, which has been followed by an artillery attack on Servian positions, is equally a menace to Roumania, which again has refused to permit shells to pass through its territory to Turkey. The Roumanian army already is partly mobilized and four new divisions of reserves now have been called out. Bulgaria has as yet made no move while awaiting the reply of the quarduple entente to its demand that Servia and Greece concede Macedonia to it in return for its military support.

Officers Chief Need of U. S. Army.

Plattsburgh, N. Y., Aug. 16.—The United States has plenty of material for a volunteer army of 1,250,000 men and all that is now needed are plans for utilizing it, Major General Leonard Wood declared here in a statement as to the preparedness of the nation for war. The chief need, he said, was officers and advocated training students in their junior and senior years along the same lines as now are being used at the military camp of instruction here.

AMERICAN REPLY TO AUSTRIA'S COMPLAINT

Sale of Munitions Strictly Within Meaning of Neutrality.

Washington, Aug. 16.—The state department made public the reply of the United States rejecting views set forth by the Austro-Hungarian recent note, declaring that transportation of war munitions from the United States to Austrian enemies was conducted on such a scale as to be "not in consonance with the definition of neutrality."

Though friendly in tone, the note flatly denies the Austro-Hungarian contentions and recalls that that country and Germany furnished munitions of war to Great Britain for the Boer war when England's enemies could not import such supplies.

It insisted that the American government is pursuing a strictly neutral course and adhering to a principle upon which it would depend for munitions in the markets of the world in case it should be attacked by a foreign power.

Attention is directed to the fact that Austria-Hungary and Germany before the war produced a great surplus of war munitions and sold them throughout the world, "especially to belligerents," and that "never during that period did either of them suggest or apply the principle now advocated by the imperial and royal government."

FIND CHARGES BASELESS

Utah University President Not Supported In Fight Against Faculty.

Salt Lake, Aug. 16.—The complete report of the committee of inquiry, appointed by the American Association of University Professors, to investigate conditions at the University of Utah, made public here, concludes that of the four charges given by the president of the university as reasons for dismissing professors last spring, "three specify no proper grounds for such action and the fourth is without basis in fact."

Not only does the report find that Professors Knowlton Wise, Snow and Bing were dropped without cause, but it gives pungent criticism of the conduct of the university by Professor Kingsbury and the board of regents.

Hold Batteries In Readiness.

Lawton, Okla., Aug. 16.—General Mann at Fort Sill received orders from General Funston's headquarters to hold batteries B and E in readiness to entrain for the Brownsville districts.

Women Sailors on Russian Ships.

London, Aug. 16.—A Reuter's dispatch from Riga, the great Russian Baltic seaport, states that women are replacing the sailors on the Volga river steamers.

Greeks Called to Colors.

Athens, Aug. 16.—Army recruits of the 1915 class were called to the colors.

TEAMSTERS' STRIKE IN ST. LOUIS OVER

St. Louis, Aug. 16.—The strike of the 1,500 teamsters and chauffeurs, which started Friday night, was settled. The strikers were granted an increase of 50 cents weekly, a reduction of one hour in the day's work and better working conditions. The wage increases, according to the team owners, will aggregate $60,000 a year, whereas the original demands of the men called for increases totaling $160,000. The strikers returned to work today.

The settlement was brought about by Father Timothy Dempsey, a Catholic priest, who induced leaders of both sides to agree to a joint meeting
